

Modern IT for the Modern Workplace

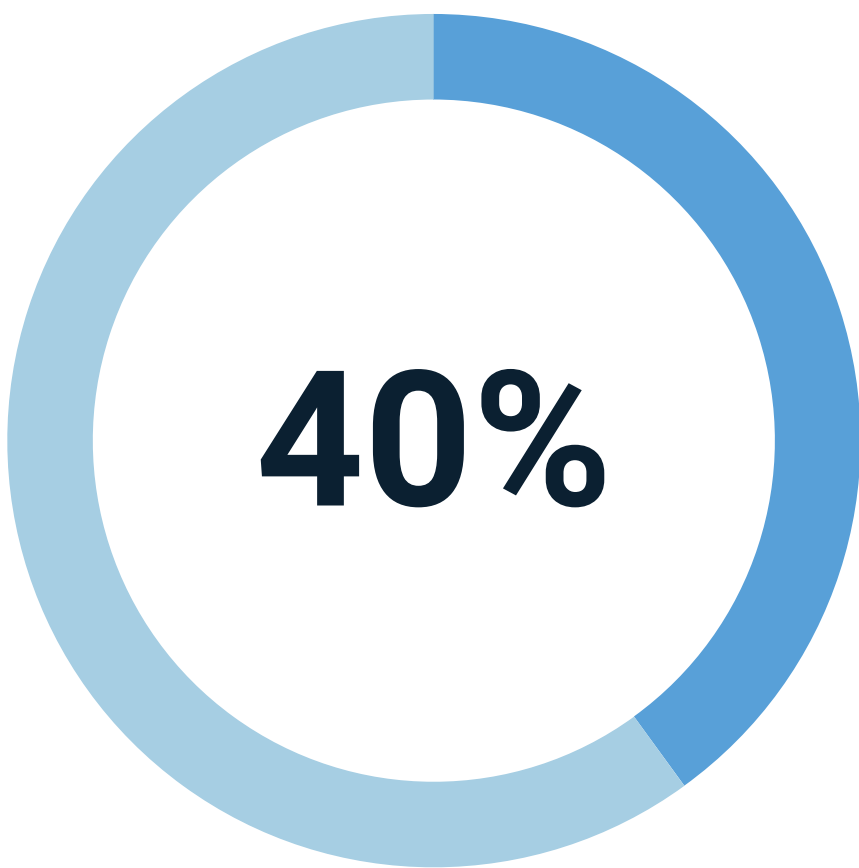

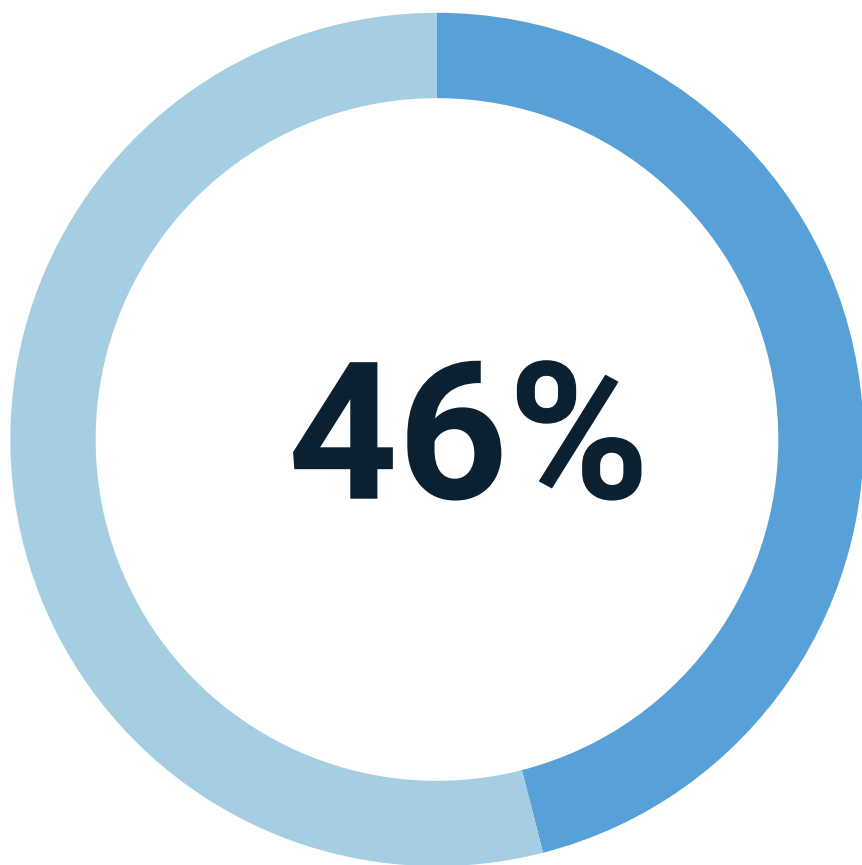

Cyber Security Risks for Remote Workers

Maintaining employee productivity while working from home is an IT challenge. Properly safeguarding your business intellectual property can be daunting technically and strategically difficult. Webence specializes in multi-layered security designed strategies for the remote workforce that allows you to focus on your business and not Cyber Security Threats.

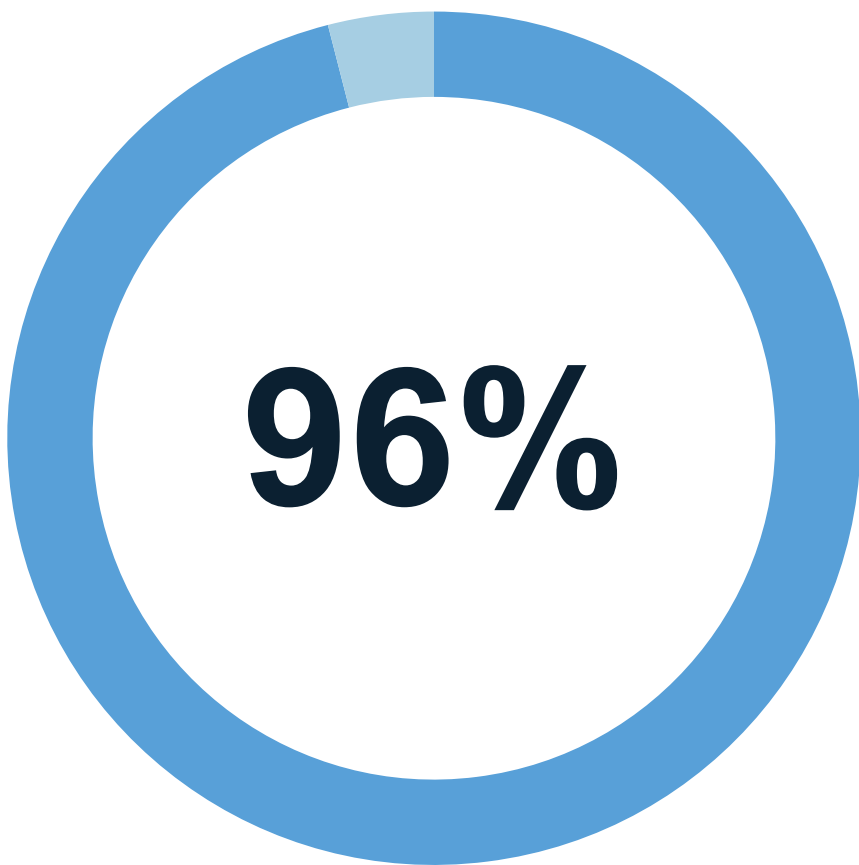

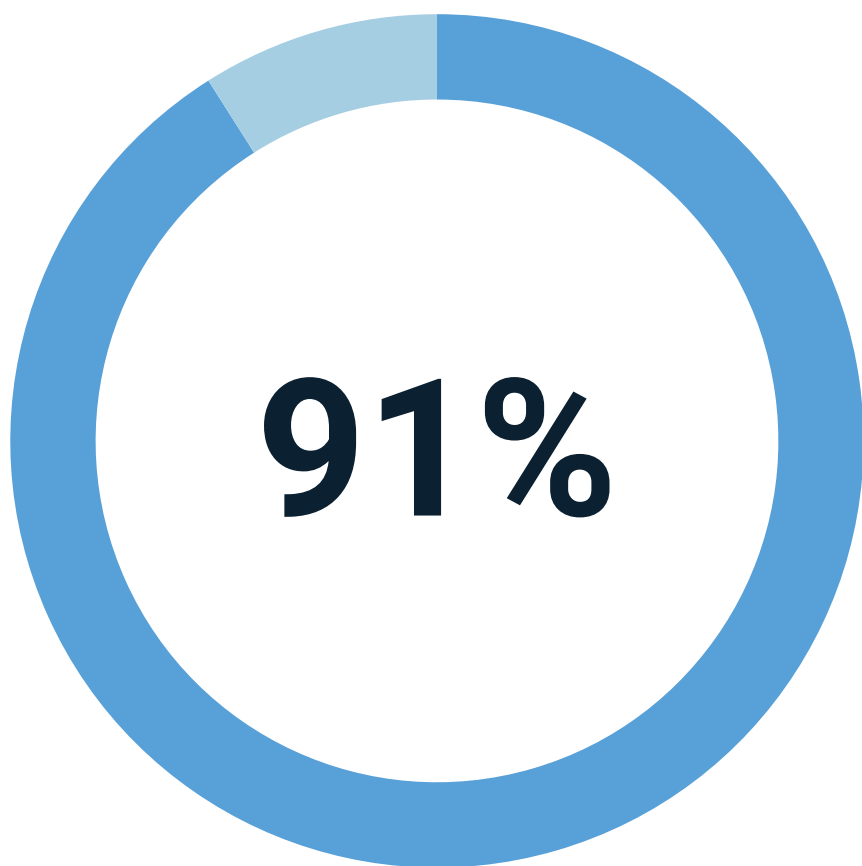

A recent study found that 90% of IT Professional believe the remote workforce is not secure.

46% of employees admit to moving files between work and personal devices when working from home.

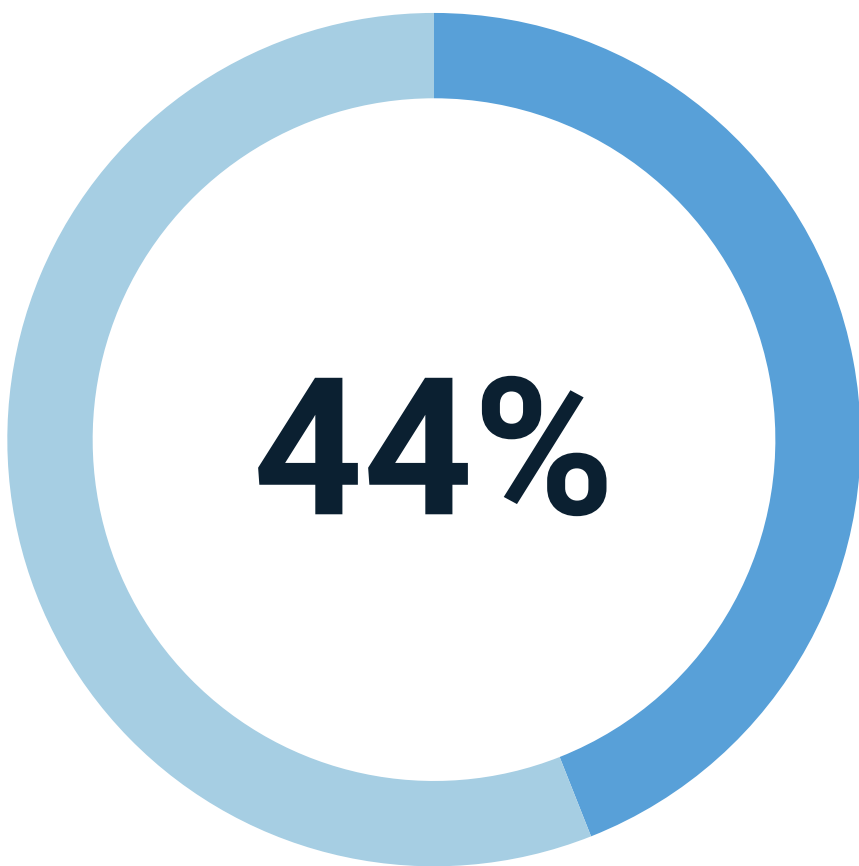

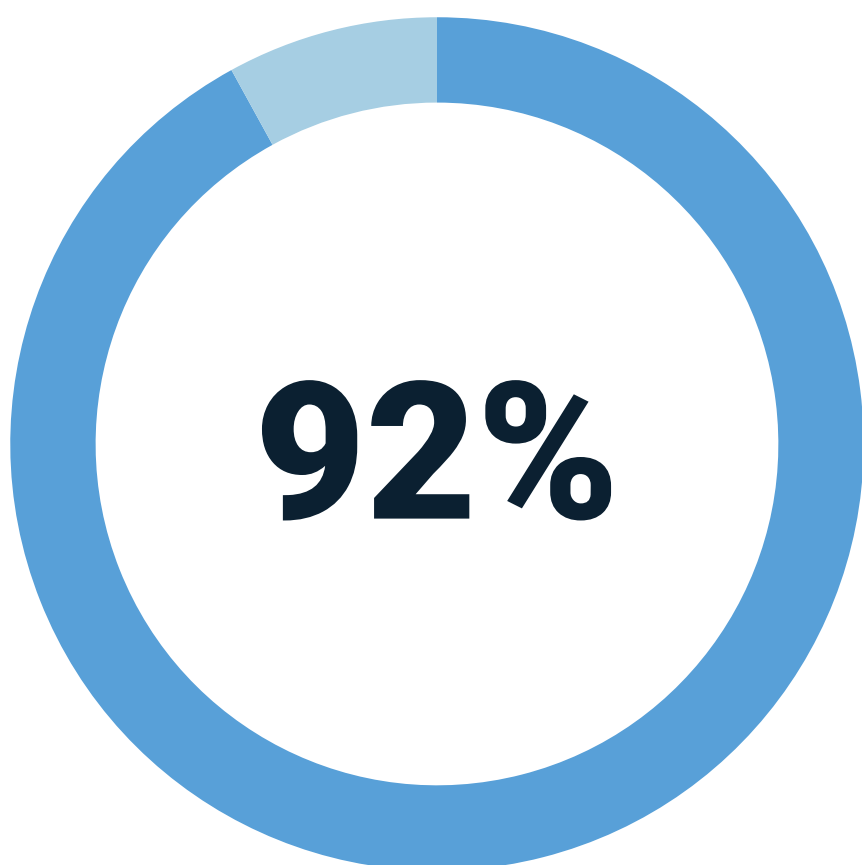

40% of clients experience cyber breaches via malware.

91% of cyberattacks originate via email phishing.

96% of executives are unable to differentiate between legitimate email from cyber phishing email.

92% of all malware is delivered by email.

44% of companies believe they are likely ransomware targets.